This small (2m) royal blue cheeky chappie is a youngster of the Great Dane breed. At six months old he has remained with us a little while and has thoroughly enjoyed his time here in the yard. He had to learn the difference between a bite and a scratch, but after a while he could tell the difference between the two, which is good. He is a very friendly boy and loves to play. He will be spayed when he is 7 years old and he is already looking forward to it, but he does not mind his size and likes nothing more than to be in his play pen on the sun. This dog would be suitable for a family or a flat sharing home only, as he would need a lot of exercise and attention. He is currently fostered by a retired couple who live in Northamptonshire, and he is micro chipped and neutered. His adoption fee is £170 including registration, worming, vaccination, first aid certificate, 1 year rabies and DHL UK insurance.
