What's New in the Color Tuner?

Color Tuner provides the highest level of color correction control. Whether you are color correcting a still image, video, or audio clip, Color Tuner will give you control that is unparalleled. You can easily define the desired point on each curve. The level of detail found in Color Tuner is only possible with the two-dimensional representation of the color in a video clip. Not only can Color Tuner give you a picture of color changes, but it also reveals a vibrance wave form to give you more detail about the color contrast. An Saturation Waveform is also included. This allows you to control every brightness point on a curve, as opposed to a one-dimensional representation of a curve that only gives you control at the peak brightnesses. This is where Color Tuner is most powerful. Color Tuner is an incredibly detailed tool, but is also easy to understand and use. Color Tuner can be used by both beginners and experts alike, and will satisfy your color correction needs to the highest standard. Color Tuner has a flexible, yet easy to understand interface, providing access to all of the most important controls. Color Tuner is an advanced color correction tool. It has three segmentation controls: Color, Vectorscope, and Saturation. These three controls will allow you to set the point on a curve. *Color Control □ Allows for low, mid, and high color point selection. *Vectorscope □ Targets your clip to the point where it would look best on a television. □ Very powerful tool, great for both color correct and saturation purposes. This control is extremely flexible, and allows the user to specify any color within the video clip at any point on the curve. *Saturation Waveform □ Allows you to control where the curve
