1. Ready for Anything. She has been taught to move around on her own, and does so very well. She will see where you want her to go, and she will either go there or try to follow you around, like a baby duckling. She can make a short jump from an enemy she is in combat with, but if you get in close, the enemy will win and knock her off. 2. A Useful Weapon. She uses her puppet strings to help you in a fight. She can toss one, and she can pull someone towards you. They are not enchanted, so she can't use them on another person. 3. Amazing at Fighting. She is a little scrapper and will take a beating. She has a 1D6 to hit attack, with a 19.5% chance of critical hits. She has a 15.5% chance of striking an enemy for 2D6 damage, which is two damage types. The critical hits and physical hit will also grant additional damage. Her Puppet strings are fairly easy to use, you will need a successful grapple or bullrush to get the hang of them. She will go for the easiest target, be sure to train her to do other targets as needed. While this game is fun and meant for entertainment, the main goal of this game is to express my view on using memes as a form of communication. The goal is to make people laugh, and hopefully become better people. (Also, comment on the people that call out others for using memes in inappropriate situations and their own apathy) ---The game is completely free, with no donations! I started this game as a side-project and should be playable within the next year. Anyway, here's a collection of my concept artwork for one of the levels. Please note that this stage does not have a theme yet, as I wanted to add more weapon bases to the stage so they will be more noticeable! The final game will most likely have a theme, and those weapons will be a bit more differentiated from each other. Stage 1 consists of a base similar to the one in the first image. However, it has three other weapon bases, making it look like a mini-battleship base/submarine base, which also includes a submarine and a mini-sub! Stage 2 has a black sphere which is similar to the base from the second image, with a submarine inside. I also have a setting option for the game... I'll be releasing it for free on steam in a few days. Check out the link below for more information on the game! Anyway, thanks for reading! Hello! This is a collection of artwork I have worked on for Toewr
