When gamers start a new Career in FIFA 22, they'll have a choice of one of the biggest football stars in the world - Cristiano Ronaldo, Lionel Messi, Neymar or Harry Kane. Each will be selected, along with up to 3 other players, at the start of the game, with each player having different attributes, strengths, weaknesses, and gameplay style. As in previous versions of FIFA, the gameplay and player models in FIFA 22 are intricately handcrafted by a team of developers. The most noticeable difference to them is the reintroduction of the much-requested "Adidas Smart Joga" technology, which allows players to tackle, intercept, and score from farther distances. FIFA Ultimate Team is a unique mode in FIFA 22 where gamers start with 1,946 Ultimate Players and can buy packs that contain a mix of new, legend, and 'reborn' players to build their Ultimate Team. Fifa's new in Fifa 22:

Simplify the User Interface - The game's brand new user interface (UI) was debuted in FIFA 20 and in the past year, tweaks have been made to enhance usability and to aid players with new gameplay and in-match features - while staying faithful to the core and soul of the game.

Improved in-depth info with more customization - For the first time in the series, in-depth simulation stats is available in real-time in a variety of ways. Statistics block on the player's screen, on-screen footy index or by hovering over player stats allows players to get a better read of what the stats really are telling in real-time; any stat like, for example, defensive contribution in a specific situation. By clicking on the stats, a player can dive deeper into their information and get to know more about how they play. Picking, for instance, a specific player stats feature allows players to fine-tune their own custom game to train, or simply to enjoy. From the moment you first touch the Ultimate Team Game Management screen, you'll see a "customise your squad" button - and you can instantly customize everything that affects your team's formation, tactics, weather, and even how you line-up on a matchday. For the first time ever you can create your own line-ups using a normal-looking front office, but using an unseen quicksave system, which overrides the normal formation screen when the quick save flag is toggled. This seamless integration of match-day stats gives players a greater sense of immersion in the game.

A new light footy match engine - The game now utilizes a new, streamlined game engine, delivering unprecedented levels of responsiveness and reactivity. This has been achieved by developing a brand new monolithic game framework, optimised for the PlayStation 4 Pro by leveraging massive DSP (graphics processing unit) capacity of the PS4 Pro.

Objectives: FIFA Ultimate Team is getting a major facelift in FIFA 22 thanks to two new key features: the new way to achieve objectives in FIFA Ultimate Team, and a brand new way to score goals.
